

The UTokyo NY CONFERENCE

Hosted by UTokyo New York Office

Co-hosted by the Institute of Medical Science (IMS) & Institute of Industrial Science (IIS)

About

The UTokyo NY Conference is an annual meeting to report on progress in studies with international collaborators, and their benefits to the quality of people's lives around the world. The meeting also introduces challenges and ongoing initiatives that may bring new opportunities. The 2017 meeting highlights research and advances in the two projects.

Date & Venue

Friday, November 3, 2017
1:30pm -5:30pm & Reception
The venue opens at 1:00pm.

At The Nippon Club in New York
145 West 57th Street, New York, NY 10019

Registration

<http://utny.iis.u-tokyo.ac.jp>

Early registration is recommended as space is limited.

Questions?

For
questions
and inquiries

utny@iis.u-tokyo.ac.jp

The University of Tokyo, New York Office, Inc.

Featured Projects

Working with Deadly Viruses: Battling Ebola and Influenza

Yoshihiro Kawaoka, PhD
The Institute of Medical Science,
The University of Tokyo

Prevent Alzheimer's: Tohoku Rejuvenation Project with the American Pecan Nuts

Kazuo Oki, PhD &
Toshihiro Maki, PhD
Institute of Industrial Science,
The University of Tokyo

Reception

With a performance by
"The Ansonia Quartet"
from the Juilliard

Details are subject to change.